Climate Reality Project Training in Atlanta

March 14-16, 2019

We want to make sure people from the most impacted communities are represented, lead, and are centered in the climate conversation. Voices representing affordable housing, economic mobility, racial justice, food security, education, immigration, digital literacy & access, and more, are needed in this space. I would like to invite you and your network to attend this FREE training. You have to register before the January 28th deadline www.climate reality project.org/training. Let me know if you know anybody who needs application assistance.

Can't attend? Please show your support by sharing with your network. #LeadOnClimate.

Travel and Lodging scholarships are available for people from these communities, email info@solnation.org for more information. Please include the number of people in your party.

Please join the Facebook event, Climate Reality Training Atlanta - North Carolina Contingent event for all the latest updates.

You MUST apply to be able to attend. If you are interested in attending, please let me know ASAP so that I can get your name down.

A little more info....

You know our climate is changing. You want to make a difference. We'll show you how. Join us for a Climate Reality Leadership Corps training and work with former US Vice President Al Gore and renowned climate scientists and communicators to learn about what's happening to our planet and how you can use social media, powerful story telling, and personal outreach to inspire audiences to take action.

This will be a powerful opportunity to focus on connecting climate advocacy to social justice and on the important role the Southeastern United States plays in addressing the climate crisis. The training will connect environmental justice and climate justice and will center frontline communities, low-income communities, and communities of color. In addition to other topics, we'll also explore biomass as a false solution to climate change.
