Own Your Journey and UnLearn With Us

Would you believe that more than 1 in 3 Americans have an arrest record? That means that nearly all of us know someone who has been impacted by the criminal justice system - yet we rarely pause to consider how those impacts affect our city.

This spring, The Center for Community Transitions is UnLearning - and relearning - how we can make Charlotte a second chance city.

As a CCT supporter, we're inviting you to join us.

We will consider the assumptions we make about people directly impacted by the justice system, how these challenges affect our city - and what we might do differently as individuals and together as a community.

What does it mean to join the UnLearning?

Joining the UnLearning is as simple as reading one email each week, then responding to a discussion question on Facebook. For four weeks, you'll receive an email from CCT that features a concept we are UnLearning, a relevant story from a credible messenger and a discussion question that you can engage with on CCT's Facebook page.

What can I do to help?

1. Sign up for The UnLearning today. It's as easy as opting in by entering your email address!
2. Forward this email to a friend. Making Charlotte a second chance city hinges on getting as many people involved as we can. Help us mark our 50th anniversary this year by getting the word out to as many people as you can.

Thank you again for your support - let's make 2024 a year of Second Chances!

Gratefully,

Patrice Funderburg
Executive Director, The Center for Community Transitions
