Hi Steve,

Happy National Insurance Awareness Day! Don't worry if you forgot to get your favorite Insurance Commissioner candidate flowers. Instead, how about giving the gift of a better insurance future for North Carolina?

My opponent, "Rate Hike Mike" Causey, has turned raising insurance rates into an art form. Under his watch, insurers in NC are making record profits, while we're left footing the bill.

But wait, there's more! Causey filled senior roles at the Department of Insurance with his buddies and political allies, paying them thousands of taxpayer dollars even though they don't have any insurance expertise. And, just to add a cherry on top, he's one of the few state officials with a private driver. Apparently, being terrible at your job comes with perks.

Mike Causey has approved 16 rate hikes on NC consumers, including:

- 3 homeowners' hikes (his predecessor only allowed one)
- 3 auto rate hikes (his predecessor actually retracted an earlier auto increase)
- 4 dwelling rate hikes (his predecessor only allowed one)
- 6 mobile home rate hikes (his predecessor only allowed two)

It's no surprise, given he's collected over $250,000 in campaign dollars from insurance industry sources. Conflict of interest? I'd say so.

We don't have to put up with this. We can make the Commissioner of Insurance accountable to us, the people again, by supporting my campaign for NC Insurance Commissioner. I'm about fairness, transparency, and giving #RateHikeMike the boot.

This National Insurance Awareness Day, let's remind Mike Causey who he's supposed to work for. Will you help us fire Rate Hike Mike on November 5th? Your donation today will help us spread the word and mobilize voters across North Carolina.
